

Directions to Dark Sky site:

GPS for the farm turning: 33° 34' 24.4" S 18° 52' 37.0" E.

If travelling on the N7 from Cape Town, turn onto the R304 to Malmesbury and at 18km (Klipheuwel) the road becomes the R302. Travel 8.9km from this point and turn right (road to Wellington) and travel 9.1km then turn left on Voor Paardeberg road. From here it is 11.2km to the farm turn off which is opposite a clump of trees. The turn will be marked with the Cape Centre signs plus a white flag.

If travelling from Durbanville take the Wellington road out of Durbanville (R302) and remain on this road through Klipheuwel and then turn left at the R302/R304 junction. Follow route as above.

If you pass the turnoff and arrive at a T-junction (R45 Malmesbury/Wellington), just turn around and travel back for about 1km. There will be a clump of trees on your left. The farm road is opposite (to the right). This is first road on the right since leaving the R45.

Alternate directions:

Travel along the N1 and turn left into the Wellington turnoff (R44).

Turn left at the Malmesbury turnoff (R45). You can see the lights of Wellington.

Travel about 10km and turn left at the Agter-Paardeberg sign. After about 1km there will be a clump of trees on your left.

The farm road is opposite (to the right). It is first road on the right since leaving the R45.

Once on the farm road:

It is a smallish road with a bit of an incline.

You will pass a dam to your left.

Towards the top of the hill the main part of the road curves right. Continue on this road.

Shortly after the road curves left and you'll see a modern farmhouse in front of you.

The house is built on a "platform". This is where we stargaze.

The house will be on your left and we use the parking area to the right as our viewing spot.

Please do not park in the road leading to the back of the house.
